

The prohibitionists have completed their first poll of Indiana and claim 15,000 votes with their cause strengthening everyday.

"Bad debt" collectors had better look sharp. The Senate has passed a bill punishing defamatory letters &c. with a $5,000 fine.

Henderson county Republicans instructed for Nicholas Royster for Congress. Mr. Royster has the sympathy of the entire district.

The Henderson Gleaner has engaged the services of Col. E. L. Starling and propose to enlarge and give Henderson a first class daily.

All congressmen who are at home looking after their fences have been ordered back to Washington to consider the President's fisheries message this week.

The Bowling Green Times deserves credit for its enterprise in illustration. But we can hardly praise its pictures as artistic successes. The other day it presented a cut of Wilbur Browder. Mr. Browder is a handsome man but this picture showed him up like an old maid who had been exercised in a ducking-stool. We have hopes of the Times' artist however.

L. H. Goodnight and B. F. Day have been nominated for Congress by the Democrats in the Third and Tenth districts respectively. In the Third there is only a slight disaffection in Warren county, a thing to be expected of course. Mr. Goodnight has a strong opponent in Dr. Hunter, but he has winning ways and a measure of eloquence and fine organizing capacity, and there is a big hope that he will pull through in apple pie order.

The effort to get up a tobacco factory in this city should be encouraged by every business man in town. It is a demonstrated fact that agricultural communities never develop into cities—it takes factories to make towns. A factory employing a large number of hands keeps constantly in circulation a large amount of money, and in its course around the circle everybody gets their share of the proceeds. Then as these enterprises increase the sustaining force of a town is quickened and growth is the result.

How foolish it is for the people of this county to ship their tobacco to Eastern or Northern cities, there have it manufactured, shipped back and sold to the very man who raised it with all the cost of freights, manufacturer's and dealer's profits added, and that too with all the intermediate profits dropped in foreign communities! How much better it would be to let our labor reap the wages, our people the profits, our town the industry and thrift consequent on such an enterprise! It does seem that our business men could have no stronger appeal made to them.

We have growled long and furiously about a railroad, and it is a problem now whether railroads get factories or factories get railroads. There is an inter-dependence between the two, and it is reasonable to conclude that either is a step towards the other. If our citizens then will organize this factory on a sound basis and push it to a complete success there is hardly a question but that it will breed many other industries which will in a short time place our town in a commanding commercial position. The question is to be decided this morning, and we trust decided wisely and well.

The Republicans in the Senate rejected the Bayard treaty by a strict party vote. Now President Cleveland throws upon them the responsibility of inaugurating retaliatory measures. To say that the rad's are discomfited is to put it mildly. If he had taken the g. o. p. senators out one at a time, and flashed a burning mirror into their eyes he would hardly have dazzled them more.

The Bayard treaty was a wise and satisfactory measure, but the Republicans wanted war, air, and nothing short of blood would satisfy them. Of course everybody knows their howl for blood was a mere demagogic yell, but Grover took them at their word and has lodged upon them all the responsibility connected with giving John Bull a black eye. Furthermore, in working out the lex talionis the Republicans will entail great distress upon our fishermen as well as interfere with trade along the border, as Canadian vessels will be kept off our lakes and out of our ports and their big railroad to the Slope will come in for a big share of the trouble. It is easy to see what the voters of this country will do with a party that will follow its spite into such gross inconsistencies.

Grover Cleveland has again demonstrated his backbone. His message was so sudden like, so dynamic, if you please, so full of courage and grit that he can be worthily dubbed the Napoleon of American politics. It is quite easy for Ingalls and those of his ilk to write insulting articles about our President and abuse him with filthy rhetoric, but when it comes to sound sense, mental grip and comprehensiveness, political sagacity and backbone "he bestrides the continent like a colossus," and his truceurs play about his feet like pigmies ignorant of the giant that towers above them.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

TRIGG.
Caldwell Telephone.
The unofficial vote cast last Monday for County Superintendent of Common Schools, shows that Major Mat McKinney was elected by a safe majority.

A late telegram from Washington states that the House Committee on Commerce has reported favorably on the bill introduced by our Congressman, W. J. Stone, to authorize the Cairo and Tennessee River Railroad Company to construct bridge across the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers at Aurora, and in Trigg county. An amendment was added to the bill, demanding that bridges should be begun within two years after the passage of this bill, and finished within three years later.

Prof. Edna Gray has invented an instrument which is manipulated with electricity by which dispatches are transmitted in the hand-writing of the sender. Any one who can write can operate the instrument. The telegraph is the name of this wonderful invention. Mr. M. D. Kelly, of Hopkinsville, who once lived here, worked to perfection an instrument of this kind for 10 years while living here. Whether Mr. Kelly ever completed his invention we have not been able to learn. Prof. Gray has undoubtedly succeeded in perfecting the invention. This is one of the grandest strides of the age.

The South Kentucky Telephone Company has made a proposition to the people of Cadiz, which in effect is, if they will subscribe stock to aid in its construction that they will erect a line connecting Cadiz with Hopkinsville. This Company expects to have connection with Clarksville and Lafayette and all intermediate points. These will be valuable connections for us to have. The enterprise is backed by some of the best business men of Hopkinsville. The necessity of such a connection is too apparent to require even the suggestion of a reason for its construction. It is thought that it will require from $1,500 to 2,000 to build the line. The Company desires to sell at least forty or fifty shares to the people of Trigg at $25 a share to be expended in the construction of the line. Our business men should give this matter their immediate attention. The subscription paper may be found with Robert Crenshaw.

CALDWELL.
(Princeton Banner).

Last Saturday evening the six o'clock passenger train going east on the N. & M. V. R. R. ran over and killed a drunken tramp who had fallen asleep on the track a short distance west of Kuttawa. The fellow was just at the end of a cut and around a curve from the approaching train and for that reason was not seen until too late.

The iron ore shipped from this place several weeks since by Messrs. Samuel McElfatric and C. C. Genuing has been tested and found to contain 55 per cent. pure iron. The ore is a rich brown hematite, and will be easily worked. A company of Henderson and Evansville capitalists have been formed and incorporated under the name of the Princeton Iron and Mining Company with a capital stock of $15,000 to begin with. This company we are informed will begin operations in the near future and will ship the ore they take out during the fall and winter to an Indiana furnace that has been erected at this place. Messrs. McElfatric and Genuing are largely interested in the enterprise.

TODD.
Elkton Progress.

It is thought that Prof. Lewis Russell will take the Trenton school for the next term.

Mr. W. Coleman raised this season on 170 acres 21,000 bushels of wheat. He also has planted this year 75 acres tobacco crop.

Mr. J. M. Glascock raised on 1/2 of an acre 25 bushels of sets and 50 bushels of onions. He has fattened 10 hogs, 15,000 of his, and garden this year.

The Trenton Hotel and Store Company was organized Monday with the authorized capital of $12,000. The following gentlemen were the incorporators: C. D. Runyon, J. D. Ruth, Dr. J. D. Chiles, J. Y. Cabanis, Jo. Metz, W. B. L. Cook, H. C. White and C. W. Ware. The shares will be $25 each.

Mr. Jos. Luck, residing near Pinchen in this county, has a sow that gave birth to four litters of pigs in the same number of days. Friday last she dropped five pigs, Saturday seven, Sunday three and Monday one, making a grand total of sixteen pigs, all alive and doing well, and still it wasn't an extra good year for pigs either. The Progress challenges the world to produce a similar instance and so long as it does not Todd will wear the ribbon. Perhaps the bitterest last season had something to do with it.

Constable Jackson, of Guthrie, arrested in this village Saturday, one Henry Glasgo, a white man about middle age, for peddling liquor brought him to this city and jailed him. We learn that when Glasgo was arrested his person was found to contain five whisky bottles and a glass which he had been using quite freely in dispensing liquor to the thirsty as they came to call. At his trial here Monday he was fined $100 each in two indictments, with others to hear from. Glasgo will likely spend the fall and winter with jailer Rickman.

Capt. H. G. Abernathy's Funeral.

The funeral services were held over the remains of the late Capt. H. G. Abernathy at the Baptist church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large crowd of sorrowing friends being present. The pall bearers were appointed by the Tobacco Board of Trade and were Messrs. W. G. Wheeler, M. D. Boales, G. V. Thompson, M. H. Nelson, James Ragsdale, J. W. Ware, C. F. Jarrett and T. C. Haubery. As a mark of respect all the business houses on Main street were closed during the services, and a long procession of sorrowing friends followed the remains to the grave.

At a meeting of the Hopkinsville Board of Trade, called to express the sense of the Board at the loss they had sustained in the death of Capt. H. G. Abernathy, one of its most valued and efficient members and for many years its president, it was resolved that in the death of Capt. Abernathy the Hopkinsville Board of Trade had lost one of its most valued members, one who was always noted for his active interest in its success and in the maintenance of its rules, being always earnest in demanding of others a punctilious observance of all its rules. Capt. Abernathy was the pioneer and founder of the Hopkinsville Tobacco Trade. In 1871 when the population of Hopkinsville was probably less than one-half of what it is now upon the completion of the then Henderson, Evansville and Nashville, now L. & N. R. R., Capt. Abernathy conceived the idea of establishing a tobacco market in Hopkinsville. The enterprise was planned and executed by dint of energy, as it was considered impossible to succeed in establishing a tobacco market so near to Clarksville, Tenn., where tobacco had been sold for more than half a century and a market established which was favorably known all over the civilized world. Undeterred by discouragement and ridicule Capt. Abernathy boldly prosecuted his design, embarking his entire private fortune in the venture and lived to see his efforts crowned with success and his example followed by a host of others, who quickly sought to reap part of the harvest he had sown.

Capt. Abernathy first associated himself with the Messrs. Wood & Seebrook as a storage house. Thence he moved to a house built by Hardin Coleman, since burned. In 1872 and '73 the firm of Abernathy & Mills took charge of the People's Warehouse, a stock company, and for many years did the largest business ever done in the market. Meeting with reverses the firm of Abernathy & Mills was dissolved and Capt. Abernathy became associated with Messrs. G. C. and E. B. Long in the tobacco trade; upon the dissolution of this firm he built the Central Warehouse on Nashville street where for the last six or eight years he continued the tobacco business under the style of Abernathy & Co. Thus Capt. Abernathy has been continuously and prominently identified with the trade since its beginning. He has never for one moment lost interest or confidence in the market he founded under such discouragement. He was always hopeful, making suggestions whereby the trade could be increased and giving helpful counsel to the younger and despairing members of the trade. In every way he upheld the dignity and authority of the board, often saying it was the chief reliance and salvation of the trade. He lived to see nearly 25,000 hides, tobacco sold in one year in this market. He saw the banking capital of the town increased from one bank of 100,000 dollars to four banks of a capital stock of $1,000,000 and thousands of dollars and a deposit of double as much more. The bulk of this vast sum being largely profitably employed in the tobacco trade. He lived to see the population of the town more than doubled and it is no vain boast to say this growth was largely due to the establishment of a tobacco market at this place.

In his death the city and entire community sustains a great loss. He was a useful, active, upright business man. Courteous and dignified in his intercourse with his fellow men, he always demanded and commanded the respect he gave to others. He leaves a wide gap in the Board of Trade and his loss will long be felt.

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved family our sincere sympathy and join with them in their grief at his loss.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the books of the Tobacco Board of Trade and published in the Hopkinsville papers and a copy forwarded to the Western Tobacco Journal and Clarksville Tobacco Leaf for publication.

Celebration at Louisville.

The gorgeous street parades and beautiful festivities of the fall celebration at Louisville, will take place September 5th, 6th and 7th. The intimation between the 7th and 18th will be devoted to floral displays. On the 18th of September The Travelers' Protective Association will have a parade different from anything of the kind ever witnessed. It will be a railroad train under full head of steam and other novelties. The Knights of Pythias parade will take place on Sept. 19th. It is intended to make this the grandest parade ever witnessed south of the Ohio river. On the night of Sept. 19th, the "Satellites of Mercury" will have a night parade. The city will be illuminated from one end to the other with electric lights and brilliant arches. This parade, while on the same order as the Mardi-Gras, will be different from anything of the kind ever attempted, and will be dazzling in its splendor.

The Chesapeake & Ohio will run a special train at remarkably low rates from Rives, Fulton, Paducah, and other stations, to Louisville September 14th. It will leave Rives at a convenient hour in the morning and reach Louisville in the afternoon.

Apply to Chesapeake & Ohio Ticket Agents for time of special train and price of tickets.

Domestic Infidelity.

Last Thursday night Mr. W. T. Clark returned to his home near Fairview and found Mr. J. W. Yancey in a compromising situation with his wife. Yancey had to pass Clark to get out of the house and as they met at the door he told Clark to shoot. Clark did not make any effort to hurt his wife's paramour until Yancey had mounted his horse when he (Clark) fired and Yancey's horse threw him, inflicting slight injuries. Clark came to this city Friday and swore out a warrant against Yancey claiming that he had committed a rape upon his wife, Mrs. Eliza Clark. Monday Yancey came to town and gave himself up. He says Mrs. Clark sent for him and he was at her house by her invitation and further that she is a woman of loose character. The case will be tried before Esq. Fritz next Saturday.

John K. Carlisle, the big-brained Kentuckian, never spoke a greater truth than when he said before the Kentucky State democratic convention in 1887: "The principles of the democratic party are perpetual, have always existed, and always will exist, no matter by what name they may be designated. The democratic party is and always has been the conservative party of the world. It is the people's and the safeguard against all radical measures."

The rumor of the marriage of Miss been correct, as such was the fact.

 and urchins who had been out to the circus and proposed to ride home free. They were on the cawcatcher, trucks, steps and everywhere a bat could stick. Sam turned on the hot water and there was a mighty stacuration.

A Big Enterprise.

Friday afternoon a number of representative citizens met in the Commercial Club rooms to discuss the feasibility of organizing a tobacco factory of large proportions in this city. The idea was received with such enthusiasm that a committee, consisting of Messrs. R. W. Ware, T.
 C. Hanbery and J. D. Ware, was appointed to solicit subscriptions to stock and report at a meeting to be held this morning at the Club's rooms. These gentlemen have been at work the last few days and have subscriptions way up in the thousands. Their final report will be made at the meeting this morning to which everybody is invited. A large attendance is desired as the enterprise must be consummated this morning or not at all.

The plan of the organization is to raise $100,000 in stock, work to be commenced when $30,000 is paid in,
 and the balance to be paid as called for. A $10,000 house will be built at once with all the appointments of a first-class factory. It is estimated that 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco will be manufactured each year, giving employment to over 200 hands. Such an industry in the community would be invaluable to our commercial interests.

If our capitalists don't come to time this morning it is probable the opportunity will be gone forever. The gentlemen in charge of the matter mean business and don't want to waste time palavering over the matter. If the $100,000 is not raised today, they will organize a smaller company and proceed to business.
 We cannot believe our minded men will let the opportunity slip.

Rock Radford Gets Twenty-One Years.

Six years ago this fall M. G. (Rock) Radford killed a tenant named Johnson in a dispute over a corn crop in which they were both interested. The killing created considerable excitement at the time, and every trial of the case since has been an event in court circles. At the beginning the defendant got a change of venue to Trigg county, where he has stood three trials. The first resulted in a hung jury; in the second he was given a sentence of 17 years but his attorneys appealed the case and had the decision of the lower court reversed. His case was called for the third time last week and he was sent up for 21 years. We understand his lawyers will again appeal and they claim they have competent grounds for a reversal.

From a private correspondent we learn the following facts in regard to the trial. The case was called Monday of last week. The jury was not secured till Wednesday morning, all that day being consumed in examining witnesses. Thursday morning Judge John Feland spoke in behalf of the defendant one hour and fifteen minutes, followed by his colleague, Col. Sims, whose speech consumed 3 hours and 15 minutes. Commonwealth's Attorney Garnett closed in a speech 2 hours and a half long. At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon the jury took the case and returned a verdict Friday at two o'clock of 21 years in the pen. None of the jury were for acquittal. One was for capital punishment and several were for a life sentence.

Radford is 33 years old and shows the decrepitude of age plainly. He cannot live many years longer. Both his physical manhood and purse are now impaired and he will not be alive to see the end of his term of sentence.

Fined for Firing.

E. L. Gouhot and Alex. Lovier were tried before Judge Winfre, Saturday for shooting into Pat McMann's shoe shot last Wednesday night.
 A number of witnesses were introduced, and after hearing the argument of the lawyers the court assessed a fine of $25 against Gouhot and $5 against Lovier, both of which were paid.

Saturday Constable Bradley executed warrants against Tucker and Dossett, the two Todd county representatives in our work house gang, and took them to Elkton Monday to answer there for misdoings over in Todd. It will be remembered that they are the two fellows who created a disturbance at Bro. Spurlin's meeting and followed a lumber man to this city for the purpose of extortion.

Their time of labor was out Saturday and Mr. Bradley went out where they were at work to re-arrest them, when Tucker caught by his heels and was only captured after a long chase.

John Yocumb got unusually crazy at his mother's home near Whitesville Friday afternoon and drove her away from home with threats of death. He is now fortified in his house and will allow no one to approach it. He ought to be arrested by all means.—Owensboro messenger.

It will be remembered that Yocumb escaped from the Asylum two weeks ago.

Mrs. John W. Chappell died at her home in Cadiz last Wednesday afternoon of typhoid fever, aged about 60 years. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and was a pious, christian lady, and her many friends deeply lament their loss. The interment took place at East End Cemetery Thursday afternoon.

THE KY. & TENN.

Everything Ready for The Drop to be Sprung.

An attorney's office on Strawberry street was the center of attraction for news Saturday because it was known that a new railroad project was there being talked of. The gentlemen closeted together were D. A. Courter and W. G. Wilson, A. H. Clark of Hopkinsville and Hon. W. M. Daniel.
 The visiting gentlemen called in the interest of a proposed new road from Chicago to the Mexican gulf, to cross the Ohio at Shawneetown and pass through Hopkinsville and this city.
 Their talk was strictly private, and what came of it is unknown, so there is no telling whether or not a big road scheme will be placed before the dear people in the near future.—
 Clarksville Special.

The above is exactly what took place in Judge Landus' office yesterday, save the absence of Mr. Daniel.
 The Kentuckians managed to get in a few words with Mr. Wilson, however, which will be of interest.

He is an exceedingly affable gentleman and talks so smoothly and entertainingly that the reporter came near not getting at the interesting details.
 To sum up his conversation we will say that his company is ready and waiting to begin work. The first section of the road, which is untimely to be extended from Chicago to the Gulf, will be the line from the C. & O. via Hopkinsville to Clarksville.

This section will be built at once as everything is ready for the actual work of construction. Christian County will be asked for $250,000, and Mr. Wilson wants the matter pushed to an issue right away. If the people want the road they can speedily get it by voting this subsidy; if not, it will go to the gulf by way of Paducah.

The meeting yesterday was to arrange the details of the proposition which we hope to give to the public by Friday. Mr. Wilson seems especially desirous for immediate action.
 For his part the plan has been perfected, it now remains with the people to say whether or not they want the road. If his suggestion in regard to the matter is obeyed we will be in the middle of the canvas right away and the vote on the subsidy will be polled early in the fall. Clarksville has been asked for $200,000, but if this is not granted the road will diverge to the south and go through any way.

Here's shopping that something dropped yesterday.

CROFTON.

CROFTON, Ky., Aug. 26.—At the teachers' association at held Crofton Academy Saturday, Aug. 25, 1888, the following teachers were present:
 Misses Jennie West, Nonie Brewer, David Anderson, Mattie Bain, Eva Joyall, Rithelle Campbell, Nannie

 Prof. S. L. Froge, Frank Campbell,
 C. B. Pitman, H. B. Newton, P. B.
 Monk, A. G. Becham, J. F. U. S. and W. W. Rodgers and there were several visitors. Prof. Froge is taking a great interest in these monthly meetings of the association and he is a good worker. C. B. Pitman made for himself a name that will ever make him a prominent member of the association. The next meeting will be held in your city.

Miss Leona Jamison, who has been visiting C. M. Day's family, returned home to-day.

W. H. Martin, Alex. Woodson, H.

 took in Evansville last week.

The Union Sunday School gave a vote of thanks to the ladies of Crofton who furnished them with such a sumptuous dinner on the day of their picnic. Prof. Becham and Master John Dolexey each testified that it was as wholesome as was ever spread before any picnics and the fact that they are yet a live is proof of it.

Walter Woodson, of Nashville, Tenn., is spending this week with his father, F. A. Woodson, here, and if you can judge a girls heart by the smiles on her face we would surmise that somebody is happy. Well new sweet-hearts are like new brooms, there existance are generally short lived and the girls find more solid comfort in the old home sweet-heart after all.

Dick Keys, who has been confined to his bed for several weeks of continued fever, is reported better today.

Miss Fairleigh Bowling is improving.

Mrs. Mary Bowles is still in a critical condition.

Rav. M. L. Pope baptized about fifteen new converts near McKnight's mill to-day.

Shot at in the Dark.

Sunday night Ed Gouhot and Geo.
 Savage were sitting in front of the residence of the latter talking. They arose to go into the house when just as they reached the door some one fired at them with a shot gun, part of the load going through Savage's clothing. They could not ascertain who it was that made the cowardly attack on them owing to the darkness.
 Had they remained sitting they would probably have been hurt.

Dropped Dead.

Early Monday morning Alf Gant, colored, went to the Metcalfe factory to start the fires in the engines.
 When the workmen came a little later they found him in front of the boiler lying on the floor dead. The coroner was summoned and pronounced it a case of heart disease. He was a faithful, sober workman and his death is much regretted by his companions and employers.

 hearty and never had an altercation with any of his patients.

Thousands of people in every part of the world are failures all their lives and remain in eternal obscurity, for the reason that whenever an opportunity appears, they are never ready to act, and procrastinate until the golden chance is past, and lost to them forever. On the other hand are men who are no more intelligent generally, who though pluck and energy are always alive to the opportunities. Such men get on rapidly, while the other class remain in poverty. The one class is thought lucky and the other class unlucky; but the one does something through plucky energy and enterprise, while the other does nothing through timid hesitation. Here is an opportunity such as is not often offered. Those to whom it is offered who have the energy and enterprise to take right hold in earnest, will do a grand business and reap large profits; while those who timidly hesitate, will get nothing. And in the majority of cases their course in this matter will be their course through life. Now is the time.

The National Government and State Liquor Law.

New York City. An important and long pending question of constitutional law has just been decided by Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court of the United States, on an application for a writ of habeas corpus to procure the discharge from imprisonment of a steamboat Captain who was convicted of violating the excise laws of Pennsylvania in selling liquor on his vessel.

The steamer which he commanded was licensed under the laws of the United States, and engaged in interstate commerce on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The Constitution confers upon Congress power to regulate commerce among the several States, in behalf of the prisoner, the steamer engaged in such commerce upon public navigable waters was not subject to excise laws of any of the several States in which it went; and hence that the Pennsylvania statute requiring a license as a condition precedent to the lawful sale of liquor was not operative upon such a vessel, even though she lay within the territorial limits of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Justice Harlan refused to give any such effect to the constitutional provision relating to the regulation of commerce. He declared that even if Congress under the provision had the power to enact or disregard local laws for the protection of health and morals, it had not thought to exercise that power by any legislation on the subject of a new license to run a steamboat under a State's excise laws. The police power of a State was held to be a power to obstruct or to regulate public navigation.

That this is a sound view of the law can hardly be doubted. To require a license for the sale of liquor on a steamboat, or to prohibit the sale of liquor altogether on such a vessel, does not tend in the least to obstruct the freedom of commerce between the several States. It is a regulation of the power to regulate the right of public navigation, and therefore a license to run a steamboat does not import authority to sell liquor. It was long held by the Supreme Court of the United States that a license from the Federal Government under the internal revenue act was no defense to a prosecution under a State law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor.

The tendency of judicial decisions has been to leave to the several States the utmost liberty of action in respect to regulation of the liquor traffic, and if this Pennsylvania case goes to the Supreme Court, it will probably be sustained.

To reverse his decision would be to hold in effect that liquor may be sold without let or hindrance on a ferry boat plying between New York and Jersey City in defiance of the excise law of this State and of New Jersey—that is to say, without any license whatever.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Attorney, Clay Co., Mo., says: "I have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. L. Wilcox, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believed he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Disease, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 25c and $1 at Harry B. Garner's City Pharmacy.

Sam Small's Summary of the November Outlook.

The prohibition party this year will poll between 700,000 and 1,000,000 votes.

There is a strong likelihood of their carrying the electoral votes of New Jersey with a fighting chance for that of Michigan and possibly Wisconsin. The accession to the prohibition cause in Connecticut, Illinois and Indiana, will show a marked increase

During the coming Presidential campaign.

The high license laws in New Jersey and other States have driven the bulk of the German and Irish republicans into the democratic camp. New York will cast between 600,000 and 700,000 votes for the prohibition ticket.

Eight of every ten men in the prohibition party in Northern and Western States were republicans. The republican party cannot withstand another defeat and will disintegrate at the November election.

In 1902 the contest for the presidency will be between the democratic and prohibition parties.

Cleveland and Thurman will be elected in November.

Interesting Figures

For the consideration of our readers a few figures from U. S. census reports upon the important question of tariff are submitted below. A comparison is made between the period from 1850 to 1890 and 1890 to 1899. During the former period we had Democratic (Walker) tariff and the latter the present high Republican tariff.

Total wealth in United States 1850.....$7,000,000,000

1890.....16,000,000,000

Increase in 10 years under Democratic Tariff (Walker Tariff) 126 per cent.

Total wealth in United States 1870.....$30,000,000,000

1890.....43,000,000,000

Increase in 10 years under Republican High Tariff only 45 per cent.

Total capital invested in United States 1850.....$1,000,000,000

1890.....8,000,000,000

Increase 100 per cent.

Total capital invested in live stock 1850.....$9,300,000,000

1890.....10,000,000,000

Increase only 9 per cent.

Total capital invested in live stock 1870.....$1,100,000,000

1890.....1,100,000,000

Increase 100 per cent.

1870.....$1,217,000,000

1890.....1,500,000,000

Increase less than 20 per cent.

Advance of rate of wages in U. S. 1850 to 1890.....70 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....22 per cent.

Increase of miles of railroad 1850 to 1890.....240 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....50 per cent.

Capital invested in manufactures increased from 1850 to 1890.....92 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....32 per cent.

Capital invested in raw material increased from 1850 to 1890.....30 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....26 per cent.

Value of manufactured products increased from 1850 to 1890.....85 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....27 per cent.

Exports of manufactured products from 1850 to 1890.....171 per cent.

1870 to 1890.....80 per cent.

Capacity in American shipping increased from 1850 to 1890.....100,000,000 tons.

1870 to 1890.....100,000,000 tons.

Unemployment in Western States increased so that in 1890 it amounted to 16,000,000 States to 15,000,000, on which the annual interest amounted to 100 millions of dollars.

So that the new State of Illinois advanced in wealth in 10 years of Democratic tariff 300 per cent, and the older State of Pennsylvania 50 per cent, and Massachusetts 30 per cent. Under Republican tariff Pennsylvania advanced 150 per cent, and Illinois with all her rich soil only 100 per cent. The increase of wealth in non-manufacturing States where wealth is evenly distributed under the present tariff is slow, but in the manufacturing States where the few protected barons grow rich and the people are no better off than in 1850, the growth is enormous and out of all proportion.

Music.

As an inexhaustible theme for dissertation, conversation, or discussion, Music stands near enough the head of the class that her virtues must be said to be something more than ordinary. It is something more than ordinary, if not inexplicable, about it. Not presenting any special new features, yet the old ones never grow threadbare and afford fields for thoughts and sentiment day after day without any sign of age.

Our ideas as to what music is are various. This arises from our conception as to whether the succession of sounds are considered for our ears or the other fellows.

The amateur violinist that has only connected the notes of "Sugar in the Gourd" or "Possum on a Gum Tree" into such a profusion of sounds that it makes music to him, may not fill our soul with that delight or rhapsody with which poets ascribe to her nature from music. Good music, real music, music itself, harmonious, soul-stirring, full of sympathy, is the music that delights, invigorates and revivifies human soul, whether that music comes from an instrument of invention in our hands or from the rippling rill coursing downward and onward, or the whistling zephyr sighing in the rustling pine, or the gentle wave lightly splashing against the shore and beautifully echoing from crag to crag.

Some one said there is music in the air, but we imagine that fellow hopped in uncomfortable proximity to a humble bee's nest and that irate insect had stung him in his luxurious head ornament and with all the music in the air, he was not able to hear the whistling zephyr sighing in the rustling pine, or the gentle wave lightly splashing against the shore and beautifully echoing from crag to crag.

The Animal Kingdom.

The Union Local says: "A gentleman of unimpeachable veracity reports a singular case to the Local. It is said that a cow belonging to Mr. Thomas M. Willett, formerly of this county, but now living near Paducah, recently gave birth to a litter of forty calves, one of which was about the size of a cat, while the others were very much smaller. The cow was in labor during a period of twenty-four hours, and the result was so appalling that she died at the end of that time. The calves also died in a short while. This is the first case of the kind on record, but the truth of the report can not be doubted, since it was brought to this county by a lady, and abundant proof can be produced if necessary."

A WIFE FOR A POEM.

The Reward Napoleon III. Gave a Sympathetic Wife to a Soldier.

When the Emperor Napoleon III. was writing his "Life of Cosar," and was casting ambitious glances at a chair in the Academy, a poet, whose name has been unknown to fame, wrote a few verses on the Emperor's work, referring to him as the "Greater Cosar of the later years."

It was absurdly sympathetic in spirit, but it was so exquisitely phrased that it attracted wide attention. The writer sent a copy of it, engrossed on parchment, to the Emperor. In return the Emperor sent him a splendid diamond ring and an invitation to call at the Tuileries.

When the poet came the Emperor received him affectionately, and after some conversation asked him if he was married.

"No, sir."

"And why don't you get married?" See here. Would you marry a lady, young, beautiful, of ardent disposition, and with a handsome dowry, if you met such a one, who was willing to have you?"

"Yes, sir, I should only be too happy."

"Well, then, come here to-morrow night at ten. I will present you to her."

At the appointed time the poet again presented himself at the palace and was admitted to the Emperor's presence. The Emperor was in street dress, and at once put on a large cloak and led the poet to a side door. There they entered a coach and were driven to a chateau which stood in the midst of spacious grounds in a retired part of the city. They entered, and the Emperor said:

"Wait here until I prepare her for your coming."

So saying he ascended the stairs, leaving the poet in a small reception-room. In a few minutes he reappeared and beckoned the poet to follow him. They went upstairs and in a luxurious boudoir found the lady. She was all that the Emperor had said: young, beautiful and charming.

"My dear Maria," said the Emperor, "allow me to present M. who comes as a suitor for your hand."

Then he abruptly left the room. The poet did not repeat his bargain. He said the lady was ready to accept his wooing, and knowing that the imperial favor depended upon his discretion, he did not seek to learn her past history. They were quietly married a few weeks later, the bride's dowry being $500,000.

The poet was never again invited to the Tuileries, however, nor did he ever have a personal interview with the Emperor, but he soon received, to his surprise, an appointment in the diplomatic service in a distant part of the world. This he accepted and went there to live, his wife, of course, accompanying him. His career there was a prosperous one, and he remained there until his death, which occurred six or seven years ago. His widow then returned to Paris, and became the wife of a Russian nobleman.

On the occasion of the poet-diplomat's death a remark was made by General Fleury, the confidential friend and business agent of the late Emperor.

"He was a lucky chap," said Fleury, "to get such a wife; and it was a hard bit of luck for the Emperor to have to pay such a price to get rid of so charming an incubus."

"Had she," was asked, "accompanied His Majesty long?"

"No," said Fleury, "the Emperor had not known her a month. Had he known her he would not have married her. She was a regular Tartar when she was young."—Puck.

GLOVER & DUBRETT.

There are sold in Owensboro daily sixty kegs of beer, according to reports of the brewery agencies. In each keg there are about 90 glasses, which would make 5,400 glasses of beer consumed in that town daily. This is less than two glasses for each male adult, and shows that Owensboro is a great temperance town.

Our brewery manager tells us that the average sale here of this house is 15 kegs a day. He says that the house is sold of Cook's celebrated Evansville beer—making 115 kegs of daily consumption.—Henderson News.
